Announcement

2006 Information-Based Complexity Young Researcher Award Committee

This annual award is for significant contributions to information-based complexity by a young researcher. The prize will consist of $1000 and a plaque and will be awarded at a suitable location.

Any researcher who has not reached his or her 35th birthday by September 30th the year of the award is eligible.

The members of the Award Committee—Josef Dick, University of New South Wales; Frances Kuo, University of New South Wales; Christiane Lemieux, University of Calgary; Friedrich Pillichshammer, University of Linz; Joseph F. Traub, Columbia University; and Henryk Woźniakowski, Columbia University and University of Warsaw—would appreciate nominations. However, a person does not have to be nominated to win the award.

The deadline for nominations for the award is September 30, 2006. Nominations should be sent to Joseph Traub. The award can be for work done in a single year or a number of years. The work can be published in any journal, number of journals, or monographs.
